

Six Men's Morris

Instructions

Each player needs 6 game pieces (the six men of the title).

1. Take turns placing one piece at a time on the board. You can only put the pieces on the dots.
2. After all your pieces are on the board, you can use your turn to move a piece along a line to an empty neighboring dot.
3. Both players try to make a mill, which is three men in a row along a straight horizontal or vertical line.
4. During both the placement and movement phases, whenever a player makes a mill, they remove one of the opponent's men that is not part of a mill, unless all the pieces are part of a mill.
5. You can only move your pieces along a vertical or horizontal line to get to the next empty dot, until...
6. When a player is down to 3 pieces, they may fly a piece to any empty dot.
7. The game is over when a player has 2 pieces left or cannot move, whereupon that player loses the game.
